“After I called Micah’s Place, I got more help and support from them in two days than I had in the past three years. For the first time in three years, I feel like there is hope for me.”

For victims of domestic violence who are starting their lives over, hope comes in many forms. A hot shower and good night’s sleep. A caring voice on the other end of the phone. A hug from a new friend in support group. A backpack full of school supplies to start the new year. These things might seem small, but they add up quickly. In 2015-2016, Micah’s Place was able to provide victims and their children with many services some of which are highlighted below:

- 4,880 nights of shelter provided to 209 survivors and their children. (24% increase)
- 1,896 hotline calls answered. (41% increase)
- 278 survivors and 217 children received outreach services.
- Over 500 support groups were attended by survivors and their children.

Micah’s Place has done so much more than provide services to victims of domestic violence. With the efforts of supporters like you…we have given victims a voice where there was only silent anguish. We have helped to provide a safer future, where there was fear of each passing day. We have given victims knowledge and the power to make their own choices. Together we have helped create the path to hope, freedom and peace for domestic violence survivors. We are deeply grateful for your partnership on this path to ending domestic violence. None of this would be possible without your support. Today you can help “Create a path of hope” for domestic violence survivors by contributing to our 2016/2017 Annual Campaign.

All of our efforts, no matter the size, make a difference.
